COMMENTS FROM THE OFFICE OF THE TOWN MANAGER

The town highway crew and equipment will be made available to assist in a spring clean-up next week.

Trucks will be in various areas the days noted, Monday, May 18: village, Songo Pond road, Grover Hill and Lover's Lane, Tuesday: East Bethel from Lowe's Store to Locke Mills, Wednesday: West Bethel, Northwest Bethel road, and Mayville, also Sunday River. Side roads not mentioned will be serviced days trucks are the closest to them.

Rubbish must be in disposable containers located where a truck can drive to it. If it is not at roadside the Town Office will have to be notified as the trucks will not be driving into every dooryard unless they know there is material to pick up.

The Town Office or Road Foreman should be notified also if there are articles that would require special handling due to excess weight or size. We will make every effort to take care of these items if we can do it without creating excessive expense.

DRUG COUNCIL NOTES:

The first session of our Drug Education seminar, was held May 12. This lesson dealt with present laws that cover Drug convictions, and the laws that we, as members of a Drug Abuse Council, must be aware of. There were people from surrounding communities that gave us a much needed boost in the morale department. We still have about ten seats to fill, so if you are interested in the seminar, we urge you to get in contact with one of the council members, as to the time of the next meeting.

Daniel Lily, attorney at law, from Portland, was the speaker of the evening. I would like to give you the context of his speech briefly. For some time in the past, all drug convictions came under the heading of a felony. A felony being punishable by a term in a State prison. Maine joined the few States who have amended this law to read thus:
The first conviction of possession of MARIJUANA, which is what we are speaking of at this time, is treated as a MISDEMEANOR. All—continued on Page Eight

SENIOR CITIZENS REJOICE AT PRESIDENT'S RETURN

The combination of delightful Spring weather, a delicious noon lunch, a fine program and the happy attendance of Mrs. Florence Bond after several weeks absence made the May meeting of the Senior Citizens on Tuesday of this week outstanding among many fine occasions.

Forty-six members and guests were present. At the birthday table were club officers, guests and Mrs. Susan Martin, Mrs. Mildred Lowell and Mrs. Edith Thurston. Rev. and Mrs. Lewis Jones of Waterford, and Mrs. Rodney Brooks were guests.

The turkey dinner was served in the dining room of Garland Chapel by members of the church Fellowship. Later these charming women poured coffee and cut the birthday cake in the church parlor.

The Mother's Day floral tiered cake was through the courtesy of Mrs. Leona Flint and Mrs. Kimball Ames shared her bouquet of mixed flowers with the Seniors.

Rev. and Mrs. Lewis Jones provided a travel talk with anecdotes and amazingly beautiful slides of Wales' historic architecture, mountains and beautiful scenery. The old castles, thatched buildings, moats and grandeur of the ancient civilization afforded interest and much pleasure.

COMMUNITY STRUCTURE GIRL SCOUTING TO BE DISCUSSED THURSDAY, MAY 21

Mrs. Betty Goodspeed, field director of the Telstar Association of the Kennebec Girl Scout Council will be present at a coffee Thursday morning, May 21, at 9:30 at the Methodist Church to discuss and help organize an adult community backbone for the local Girl Scout program. Everyone interested in any level of the Girl Scouts is urged to attend as it is hoped more interested adults can be recruited for the coming year.

This past year just enough adult leaders were "mustered together" for two troops but many other positions were left vacant, i. e. troop organizer, Cadette and Senior troop leaders, cookie chairman, troop committee members etc.

More than just leaders are needed, so any who could spare some time are asked to join the group for coffee, and learn how to help make a stronger community program. The 60 girls who have showed enthusiasm throughout this year deserve support, and they are expecting even more from the "adults" next year. The adults shouldn't let them down!

GREENWOOD CITY

Mrs. Celina Morgan, Corra. — The warm drizzle have not yet ended and it is nice to feel the warm touch of the sun.

The exquisite colors of the azaleas from like a's through the brightness of our days.

The roadsides and fields are braked with tender green. Violets are pushing up through the moss and other wild flowers are peeping out from the warmth.

Even the Mallards are out in the ponds. How their sounds, like corn cobs, fill the air.

Cardinals quaver in the low bushes nearby.

With all these lovely things my heart companion and I took the road which led us to the woods. There are no longer considered wild enough to save. The road we took led up all the way and I recalled the many times I walked it in years gone to visit my cousin at the Day Homestead. Today a plaque on the fence door proclaims just that.

As we climbed, there were as to all collected places the evergreen oaks. But along the banks and walls the ferns had started, as in considerable carpet of greenery.

Against the steeply incline in the quietness we sat on the steps and watched the shadows change in the valley as the sun played on the crests of the mountains. We especially noted the lush green of the poplars in their intricate modes of light all over the valley.

After leaving the Day Homestead we traveled to the top of another hill where we rested and ate a lunch.

Turning back and facing the west, the scenery was grand. Now and then we saw a house nestled in a circle of the hills. Everywhere there was scenery, richness beamed in by glass trees, picturesque with primal silence.

Now, as I write this, it's early evening, cool and tender with those soft, of perfume, falling their like like notes from the forest comes sweetness and purity, the delicate talk of the thrushes.

The sun is gliding the top of the western hills.

The pond is calm and dotted in sparkling.

Thus closes another Maine day.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Davis broke their record for attending Grange meetings this week by attending five nights in a row: Franklin Grange 12, 13, 14, 15, 16. Mrs. Davis was in West Paris, Wed., West Grange where they were visiting.

Mr. and Mrs. James Mason and family were in So. Lancaster to a reunion recently.

Mother's Day was a real scorcher although the sun did not shine brightly all day. It was just the day to go bird hunting so I did. In fact Saturday morning, also, proved a perfect bird day. I saw 15 different birds during the two day trip. The whistler was one I had never seen before but am sure I have heard it's song many times. Scarlet tanagers, oven bird, black burnian warblers, Wilson thrush, blue headed vireo were some of the most elusive birds I saw in my walk. This makes my list 50 at present. Baltimore Oriole and Goldfinches appeared in our maples this morning. One doesn't know what they are missing until they look for the beautiful birds all around them. They are fantastic.

We are sorry to hear of the illness of Lester Felt who has suffered a heart attack. He is in the Eastern Maine General Hospital, Bangor, Maine. Maybe some who know him would like to send him cards. DRUG COUNCIL NOTES:

though this carries a fine of up to $1,000 and as much as 11 months in jail, it is a jail sentence, rather than a prison sentence.

The SECOND offense, is then considered a FELONY, and the penalty can be as much as a $2,000 fine and up to two years in a state prison.

Any person 21 years of age or older, who sells, gives, or otherwise causes to be distributed, marijuana, to a person who is 21 or older, is subject to a 5 year jail sentence.

For sale to a person 18 to 20 the sentence is 6 years, and younger than 18, 8 years for a first offense, and 10 for the second.

A person who is apprehended in a place where there is marijuana, with a person who has it in his possession, or who is anywhere where marijuana is in evidence, becomes liable for a charge of "inducement", the crime as if they had been caught with it on them. This came up when so many people were turned loose because they did not actually have it on them at the time there was a raid or something of that nature. It is now impossible to deny that you know it might have been around at a party or something, but you didn't touch it. You were THERE, so you're as much to blame as the person who had it on him at the time.

The sentence or conviction for a HARD DRUG, is entirely different. This could mean as long a stretch as 20 years in prison. The same as the sentence for manslaughter.

The person who might have occasion to find, or to have in his possession, a drug that is not a medical prescription, may be covered by a clause that was made especially for this purpose. It is called incidental possession, aimed at protecting a teacher who might have found something in a locker at school, or the person who might be aiding an officer of the law in some kind of investigation or something of that nature. It does not cover the person who has a drug in his possession with no idea of ever turning it over to a police officer, or who is not directly concerned with some phase of an investigation in which the law is a part. It does not mean that you could pick something up from a dealer, hang onto it, and if you do get caught with it, say that you were helping the law. Thus, if you should be looking around your own house and find a drug, you could take it to the law and say that you have reason to believe that your child is using this drug, and still not get arrested yourself as far as possession goes. A fine line perhaps, but one that could not be too badly abused.

These are some of the points touched on. I think you must agree that much more is being done on an official level, than we realized.

Guests of Mrs. Bert Grover over the week end were Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Duggan and family of Bangor. Mr. and Mrs. Al Grover and son of East Hartford, Conn.

We're always thinking...

WHICH DOCTOR — NOT — "WITCH DOCTOR"

How do you recognize a quack? The health swindler still preys heavily on our society. He is a fraud with phony words, eye-appealing, ear-catching mechanical devices, mystical potions and magic pills. He falsely promises he can diagnose and cure disease.

To avoid the pitfalls of quackery, which thrives on health problems including arthritis, rheumatism, cancer, mental health, etc., rely on your physician. To delay reliable medical care may mean the difference between life and death. With his prescriptions and diagnostic techniques, your best chance for good health is your doctor.

CLUKEY'S PHARMACY, INC. IS UNDER CONTRACT WITH MEDICARE (STATE) AND MEDICARE (FEDERAL) TO FILL PRESCRIPTIONS. If you have any questions, please call and we will be glad to answer them.
